December 2017 Graduation

Double Major: Comparative Literature and Biological Sciences

While attending UCD I was a double major in Comparative Literature and Biological Sciences. Since graduating, I've had 2 different jobs in the mental health field, currently I'm working at UC Davis in the early psychosis programs. I plan to apply to get a MSN in psychiatric nursing in the next month. One of my Comparative Literature professors will be writing a letter of recommendation for me. Do a senior thesis! It will increase your writing skills in ways that will benefit you in any field and working on projects of that length are a great experience.
